

To Those Seeking Relief and Personal Wellness,

Like many, I find fewer and fewer quality products in the 'world market' of today. When I come upon them, I am always motivated to send a note of thanks, write a customer review for the product WEB site. These impulses usually are engulfed by tasks of greater importance or urgency. In this instance, however, I have decided to put my 'mouth where my money is', as it were, and document the extraordinary quality and effectiveness of the products offered by katybugs Plant Sense. The oils and lotions sold through this company are, quite simply, the finest products on the market today for use in plant-based wellness.

Our family uses many Plant Sense products, benefitting from them throughout the year. A commentary on some of our favorite products illustrates why they have become essential staples in our household. The application of Pain Relief to areas affected by such things as muscle strain or joint stiffness results in significant pain relief within a short period of time. Use of Lavender and Chamomile Cream can result in a reduction of skin inflammation in a matter of minutes. Muscular Relief blend, whether used for small areas of soreness or in full-body massage, eases muscle tension and enhances relaxation for muscles in spasm. Citrus Blend—as, well as other plant oil sprays—mixes subtly and non-invasively with any environment, bringing an immediate sense of freshness and fostering a sense of emotional calmness.

Katie Buggs, owner of Plant Sense is an expert in the essence of plants and in the benefit of plant oils in wellness enhancement. In addition, she is a master blender. Through Plant Sense she offers an array of oils and oil combinations, each blended by hand in accordance with unique Plant Sense formulas. Each product is designed to bring a specific, soothing aid for a particular problem or condition. Each is made from the finest grade plant oils. And, remarkably, each product is made in response to specific customer requirements! It is as if the companies of yester-year had been willed to Katie Buggs, shops in which clothes, saddles, tools and medicines were made for each individual seeking the product. So it is with this amazing business.

Susan Saunders,
Plant Sense Customer for Decades